Course Description:

This course is an introduction to the contemporary practices of Hinduism in South Asia and in diaspora Hindu communities throughout the world. We will examine the diversity of popular Hindu practices with special attention to differences defined by region, language, caste, and gender. Focusing on recent ethnographic research, we will consider the ways in which contemporary Hindus make sense of the world and their lives within it. Topics covered will include the structure of social and family life, the organization of sacred space and time, and the changing forces of modernity in Hindu life.

Online elements for this course:

On occasion, additional required readings will be made available on D2L.
Materials relating to in-class activities will also be available on D2L.

Core Competencies:

By the end of the course, students will develop general knowledge of the contemporary landscape of Hindu traditions and an understanding of the place of ethnographic research in the study of religion.

Course Requirements:
