COURSE CALENDAR STATEMENT:

A survey of ancient science and medicine, with special emphasis on early conceptions of the human mind, thought and knowledge.

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course will survey the main features of ancient medical thought and practice in the western world (roughly 500 BCE-500 CE), and introduce its most important authors and texts. It will pay especial attention to the writings of Hippocrates, Soranus and Galen. The course will also consider some aspects of the social history of medicine, particularly ideas about women and sexuality, and race and ethnicity. Though the majority of the material examined will be textual, there will also be some exploration of archaeological (architectural and artistic) evidence.

COURSE LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

- Understand the broad development of rational ancient medicine from its earliest beginnings to the end of the Roman Empire
- Identify and analyze key medical texts and practices from the Classical Greek Age to the end of the Roman Empire
- Interpret primary sources (archaeological and artistic, and textual in translation) to recreate ancient medical thought and practice
- Think critically about the practice of medicine in the past, and reflect on it in relation to the modern world

LEARNING RESOURCES

GUIDELINES FOR ZOOM SESSIONS

Zoom is a video conferencing program that will allow us to meet at specific times for “live” lectures. To help ensure Zoom sessions are private, do not share the Zoom link or password with others, or on any social media platforms. Zoom links and passwords are only intended for students registered in the course. Zoom recordings and materials presented in Zoom, including any teaching materials, must not be shared, distributed or published without the instructor’s permission.

The use of video conferencing programs relies on participants to act ethically, honestly and with integrity; and in accordance with the principles of fairness, good faith, and respect (as per the Code of Conduct). When entering Zoom or other video conferencing sessions (such as MS Teams), you play a role in helping create an effective, safe and respectful learning environment. Please be mindful of how your behaviour in these sessions may affect others. Participants are required to use names officially associated with their UCID (legal or preferred names listed in the Student Centre) when engaging in these activities. Instructors/moderators can remove those whose names do not appear on class rosters.

Non-compliance may be investigated under relevant University of Calgary conduct policies (e.g Student Non-Academic Misconduct Policy). If participants have difficulties complying with this requirement, they should email the instructor of the class explaining why, so the instructor may consider whether to grant an exception, and on what terms.

For more information on how to get the most out of your zoom sessions visit:

<https://elearn.ucalgary.ca/guidelines-for-zoom/>

The instructor may record online Zoom class sessions for the purposes of supporting student learning in this class – such as making the recording available for review of the session or for students who miss a session. Students will be advised before the instructor initiates a recording of a Zoom session. These recordings will be used to support student learning only and will not be shared or used for any other purpose.

COURSE EVALUATIONS AND STUDENT FEEDBACK

Student feedback will be sought at the end of the course through the standard University Student Ratings of Instruction (USRI).
