Course Description

A critical and inter-disciplinary examination, via classic texts, of how modernity has been transformed within the framework of an evolving global culture. Focus will be on major ideas, principles, and their implications within the time-frame of the early twentieth to early twenty-first centuries. Emphasis is placed primarily on Western writings but inter-cultural perspectives will also be considered.

Additional Information

This is a reading-heavy course in which active participation is an absolute requirement.

Students will be challenged to keep up with readings in order to engage in class discussion. Clear guidelines and grading criteria are provided for all assignments and class participation components.

Attendance in class is advisable, since discussion of readings in class will provide significant content. If you need to be absent, ask a classmate to provide you with notes: sharing is encouraged.

Objectives of the Course

- To enrich students' intellectual perspective on how the events and factors at play in the 20th century and the beginning of the 21st have shaped the world we now experience.
- To develop skills in the interpretation of inter-cultural texts, and in writing and presentation.

Textbooks and Readings

D. S. Gochberg, ed., Classics of Western Thought, Vol. III (from CMCL 303 & 501)

D. S. Gochberg, ed. Classics of Western Thought, Vol. IV, The Twentieth Century.

O. Hallman, ed. Traversing Philosophical Boundaries

A. Huxley, Island (novel)

Internet and electronic communication device information

Cellphones and pagers must be turned off during class unless you are a health care or law enforcement professional, or responsible for the care of a family member. Computers are welcome as long as they are used appropriately. Research and note-taking are appropriate during class; social sites, Twitter, games, YouTube and e-mail are not.

Instructions for assignments

Reflective journals:

Journal entries, which must be written individually, are reflections and commentaries on assigned readings. A set of brief essays (1-2 pages each) commenting on at least four readings is required for each journal; two entries in each set will be evaluated (students may choose which two they wish to have evaluated).

The first set will focus on personal reflections; the second set on reflecting a chosen thematic concentration (see below).

Evaluation will be based on coherence, relevance, depth of understanding, and rhetorical and writing skills demonstrated.

Group Projects:

Groups for projects will focus on solving a problem associated with one of the following themes:

-Food or Water Security

-Justice and Social Hierarchies

-Re-imagining Capitalism

This assignment is an exercise in speculative thinking as well as research. The proposed problem should be based in real issues. The proposed solution does not need to be definitive; it can be possible or theoretical, local or national or international. It should be based in readings from the Heritage (CMCL) courses, in identification of cultural assumptions, and in real-world statistics.

Group project proposal

Groups of 2-4 members are acceptable; individual projects are normally not. The proposal must identify the problem being addressed and use course readings and themes to explain why the topic is relevant; what the specific interest or angle taken to explore it will be; what other literature has been consulted to frame and deepen understanding of the problem (annotated bibliography); how the group will tackle the project (methodology), including rules of engagement for completing the work (who will do what) and resolving any conflicts that arise among group members.

Length: 2-4 pages double-spaced.

Group project

Each group will complete a final project for submission by prior arrangement, between March 17th and 31st.

Projects can take many forms, as long as emphasis on the quality of the thinking and analysis relating to the topic is maintained. Projects may include skits, videos, debates, mock UN reports, or papers.

Length for papers (non-performative): Depends on topic and size of group: avg. 8-12 pages double-spaced. All pages must be numbered and fastened together.

Performative projects, such as skits and videos, will get class time to make their presentations. These must be accompanied by:

- a script and/or storyboard, or a detailed outline of contents;
- a bibliography of all written and “clipped” sources;
- a statement from each group member of what you learned from doing the project.

All pages must be numbered and fastened together.

Timing for presentations will be determined when the number of them is known.

In either case, you will be graded on the results of your work. Hard work does not merit an A unless it produces outstanding results.

Registrar-scheduled Final Examination: Yes

Note: If your class is held in the evening, the Registrar's Office will attempt to schedule the final exam during the evening; however, there is NO guarantee that the exam will NOT be scheduled during the day.

All assignments and exams must normally be completed or a course grade of F may be assigned at the discretion of the instructor.

Submission of Assignments: Please hand in your essays directly to your tutor or instructor if possible. If it is not possible to do so, a daytime drop box is available in SS320; a date stamp is provided for your use. A night drop box is also available for after-hours submission. Assignments will be removed the following morning, stamped with the previous day's date, and placed in the instructor's mailbox. Some assignments may be submitted via D2L Dropbox; this will be arranged at the discretion of the instructor.

Please include your name and ID number on all assignments, and be prepared to provide picture ID to pick up assignments or look at final exams in SS 320 after classes have ended. Personal information is collected in accordance with the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy (FOIP) Act. For more information, see <http://www.ucalgary.ca/secretariat/privacy>

Note: It is the student's responsibility to keep a copy of each submitted assignment. For courses in which assignments are submitted electronically, it is the student's responsibility to ensure that the correct copy of the assignment is submitted. (Including the version date or version number in your file name may help you avoid submitting the wrong version of your written assignments.)

Policy for Late Assignments

Assignments submitted after the deadline may be penalized with the loss of a grade (e.g.: A- to B+) for each day late, at the discretion of the instructor.

Students with Disabilities

If you are a student with a disability who may require academic accommodation, it is your responsibility to register with the Student Accessibility Services (220-8237, <http://www.ucalgary.ca/access/>) and discuss your needs with your instructor no later than 14 days after the start of the course.

Writing Skills Statement

Department policy directs that all written assignments (including, to a lesser extent, written exam responses) will be assessed at least partly on writing skills. For details see <http://comcul.ucalgary.ca/needtoknow>. Writing skills include not only surface correctness (grammar, punctuation, sentence structure, etc) but also general clarity and organization. Sources used in research papers must be properly documented. If you need help with your writing, you may use the Writing Centre. Visit the website for more details: <http://www.ucalgary.ca/ssc/writing-support>

Grading System & Department of Communication, Media and Film

Grade Scale Work in this course will be graded using percentage grades. The following grade scale percentage equivalents are used in the Department of Communication, Media and Film:

Grade Point Value	Description	Grade	Department grade scale equivalents	Letter grade % equivalent for calculations
4.00	Outstanding	A+	96 - 100%	98.0%
4.00	Excellent—superior performance, showing comprehensive understanding of subject matter.	A	90 - 95.99%	93.0%
3.70		A -	85 - 89.99%	87.5%
3.30		B+	80 - 84.99%	82.5%
3.00	Good—clearly above average performance with knowledge of subject matter generally complete.	B	75 - 79.99%	77.5%
2.70		B-	70 - 74.99%	72.5%
2.30		C+	65 - 69.99%	67.5%
2.00	Satisfactory—basic understanding of the subject matter.	C	60 - 64.99%	62.5%
1.70		C-	55 - 59.99%	57.5%
1.30	Minimal pass—marginal performance; generally insufficient preparation for subsequent courses in the same subject	D+	53 - 54.99%	54.0%
1.00		D	50 - 52.99%	51.5%
0.00	Fail – unsatisfactory performance or failure to meet course requirements.	F	00 - 49.99%	0%

Plagiarism

Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possibly suspension or expulsion from the university.

You must document not only direct quotations but also paraphrases and ideas where they appear in your text. A reference list at the end is insufficient by itself. In-text citations must be provided, and readers must be able to tell exactly where your words and ideas end and other people's words and ideas begin. Wording taken directly from a source must be enclosed within quotation marks (or, for long quotations, presented in the format prescribed by the documentation style you are using). Paraphrased information must not follow the original wording and sentence structure with only slight word substitutions here and there. These requirements apply to all assignments and sources, including those in non-traditional formats such as Web pages or visual media.

For information on citation and documentation styles (including APA, Chicago, IEEE, MLA, and others), visit the links provided at <http://www.ucalgary.ca/ssc/node/208> . If you have questions about how to document sources, please consult your instructor or the Writing Centre (3rd Floor TFDL, <http://www.ucalgary.ca/ssc/writing-support>).

Academic Misconduct

For information on academic misconduct and its consequences, please see the University of Calgary Calendar at <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html>

Research Ethics

Whenever you perform research with human participants (i.e. surveys, interviews, observation) as part of your university studies, you are responsible for following university research ethics guidelines. Your instructor must review and approve of your research plans and supervise your research. For more information about your research ethics responsibilities, see <http://arts.ucalgary.ca/research/research/research-ethics>
