Required Text(s):

- 1) M. Lefkowitz and M. Fant (eds.) (2005), Women's Life in Greece and Rome. A Source Book in Translation, 3rd edition (Baltimore).
- 2) Readings assigned in class.

Optional Text(s): Additional readings will be recommended in class. You are encouraged to read as much as possible!

Course Description: What did it mean to be a woman, or a man, or neither, or both, in the Greek and Roman worlds? This course will explore the ways in which ancient people experienced, described, and constructed gender, sexuality, and the family. From paintings and sculptures to inscriptions and letters, from Greek tragedies and Roman satires to magic spells and public law codes, we will consider not just how ancient people lived and thought about sex, gender roles, and family life, but also how these ancient discourses have shaped, and compare with, modern ways of understanding these topics.

Online elements for this course (if any): n/a

Core Competencies: This course will introduce students to the ancient evidence as well as the larger themes in the scholarly study of gender, sexuality, and family, especially the difficulties we face in trying to access women's experience through sources produced by men, and the relationship between the individual and society. Students will increase their familiarity with ancient sources and how to work with them through assigned readings, participation in lectures, and source-analysis assignments. Students will also enhance their ability to argue effectively in written work through a research essay and essay questions in a registrar-scheduled exam.

Course Requirements:

Date	Assessment	Weight (%)	Required pass/fail
Thursday, 2 Oct. 2014	1 essay plan (point-form, 1 page)	15%	no
Thursday, 16 Oct. 2014	1 analysis of an ancient source (1 page)	15%	no
Tuesday, 25 Nov. 2014	1 research essay (1500 words)	25%	no
(registrar scheduled)	1 three-hour exam (consisting of two source analyses and two essays)	45%	no

Grading

A numerical mark will be given for each course requirement. A letter grade will be assigned on the following number and letter grade scheme, standardized within the Department of Classics and Religion:

A+	100 - 96	A	95 - 90	A-	89 - 85
B+	84 - 80	B	79 - 75	B-	74 - 70
C+	69 - 65	C	64 - 60	C-	59 - 55
D+	54 - 53	D	52-50	F	Under 50

N.B. All written assignments will be graded with regard to both form and content.

Policy with regard to missed assignments/assessments: Assignments submitted after the deadline will be penalized with the loss of a third of a grade (an A- to B+) for each business day (not class) that the assignment is overdue.

Expectations for student conduct in this course: Students are expected to participate in in-class activities and discussion. The lectures will provide a guide to the material, but students are expected to read the ancient sources in the textbook, and additional sources recommended in class, so as to build their own independent knowledge of the subject. In the assignments and exam, students will be expected to give evidence of their own reading.

Electronic Device Policy: Devices used for note-taking are permitted. Recording any part of any lectures in any form must first be approved by the instructor in writing and is for individual private study only.

Syllabus:

A complete syllabus will be made available in the first week of class.

References and Bibliography:

The Department of Classics and Religion uses the most recent edition of the Chicago Manual of Style and requires references and bibliographies to adhere to the Chicago citation system. You can find a quick guide here: http://www.chicagomanualofstyle.org/tools_citationguide.html. Alternatively please consult with the library staff for help and advice for using the Chicago citation style.

Academic Honesty

Plagiarism is not tolerated at the University of Calgary and has serious consequences. Your essays/presentations must be your own work and inadequate referencing may be seen as plagiarism. Please see the relevant sections on Academic Misconduct in the current University Calendar (section K, which can be found here: <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html>). If you have questions about correct referencing, please consult your instructor, librarian staff or the Chicago manual of style.

Academic Accommodation

It is the student's responsibility to request academic accommodations. If you are a student with a documented disability who may require academic accommodation and have not registered with the Disability Resource Centre, please contact their office at 403-220-8237. Students who have not registered with the Disability Resource Centre are not eligible for formal academic accommodation. You are also required to discuss your needs with your instructor no later than fourteen (14) days after the start of the course.
