COURSE CALENDAR STATEMENT:

A seminar course examining topics, personalities, and movements in Christianity from its origins to its modern and contemporary developments. This course may be repeated for credit. Course hours: H (3-0)

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

The course examines medieval religious texts and images that artfully relayed powerful emotions of love and hate in relation to Christian belief and practice. Focus will be placed on late medieval Italy. The texts and images explored facilitate an understanding of a religious perspective that may appear strange on first viewing but pulsate with humanity, capturing its attractiveness and repulsiveness.

COURSE LEARNING OUTCOMES: Upon completing this course students will have:

- acquired experience and knowledge of reading medieval texts (in English translation from Latin and Italian vernacular sources) in a variety of genres (hagiography, poetry, prayer, visual arts, narrative, treatises, letters, visionary literature, autobiography)

- encountered different levels of medieval culture, from rural and popular to urban and learned, from the vantage point of male and female creators and subjects
- improved academic skills through written assignments, presentations and class discussion of how to reflect upon, present, analyse and evaluate complex ideas and arguments.

MISSED CLASSES AND MISSED ASSIGNMENTS

Students who have joined the course after it started, or who have missed class due to illness or other reasons, must consult other students (e.g., via group chat) in regard to what was missed.

If a student misses a submission, the student must provide the instructor with supporting documentation (note from doctor, note from counselor, accident report, etc.) within 48 hours of the absence. If documentation is not provided within 48 hours, the student will not ordinarily be provided an opportunity to make up the assigned task and will receive a numerical mark of zero.

GRADING

A numerical mark will be given for each course requirement. A letter grade will be assigned on the following number and letter grade scheme, usually used within the Department of Classics and Religion. Below you will find: letter grade; numerical mark; and grade point value

A+ 96–100 4.0	B 75–79 3.0	C- 55–59 1.7
A 90–95 4.0	B- 70–74 2.7	D+ 53–54 1.3
A- 85–89 3.7	C+ 65–69 2.3	D 50–52 1.0
B+ 80–84 3.3	C 60–64 2.0	F 0–49 0.0

A student's final grade for the course is the sum of the separate assignments. It is not necessary to pass each element separately in order to pass the course.

Adjusted Final Grades:

The instructor will automatically implement a standard measure of adjustment (.5%) for final grades. For example, a final grade of 74.5% (B-) will be rounded up to 75% (B).

Do not send emails asking the instructor to increase or 'round up' or 'bell' your final grade. Also, do not tell the instructor you: 1) always get higher marks in your other courses; 2) must get a certain grade in order to get your degree or to be admitted to another program; 3) should get a higher mark because you worked very hard.

Extra Assignments:

There are no extra assignments for this course. Students will not be given an opportunity to submit extra work or retake tests to increase their grade.

CONDUCT

Students, employees, and academic staff are expected to demonstrate behaviour in class that promotes and maintains a positive and productive learning environment. As members of the University community, students, employees, and academic staff are expected to demonstrate conduct that is consistent with the University of Calgary Calendar, the Code of Conduct and Non-Academic Misconduct policy and procedures, which can be found at: <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html> In general, please be courteous toward other students in the course, and to the instructor. Be respectful of people's feelings, and of classroom facilities (e.g., do not put feet up on chairs or desks), or unduly take up desk space.

For students who raise questions during class, please contribute to the resourceful use of classroom time by limiting the number of questions you ask in each class.

Be considerate of the shared learning environment. Avoid distracting behavior and activities. Focus on objective inquiry. While critical evaluation is permitted in this course, students are encouraged to steer enquiries toward objective investigation rather than confessional or adversarial agendas.

Students who flagrantly or repeatedly abuse these any of these guidelines of conduct (including in reference to what follows below) will be asked to leave the class; the Security Office will be called if the instructor deems it to be necessary.

USE OF INTERNET AND ELECTRONIC COMMUNICATION DEVICES IN CLASS

Be aware that if you care about your marks, you will not use your notebook computer to take notes in class, as studies consistently demonstrate that students who use pen/pencil and paper in class outperform those who use electronic devices. Under no circumstances must anyone use laptops during class for email, Facebook, or other social or recreational activities. Cell phones must be turned off during the entire class time. Texting during class is not permitted. Taking pictures in the classroom is not permitted, including picture-taking of data projector images and slides. No video or audio recording is permitted. Students who distract the instructor or other students due to the misuse of electronic devices during class will be asked to leave the classroom for the duration of the lecture. Recording of lectures is prohibited without the consent of the instructor. According to Academic Regulation E.6: "With the permission of the instructor, students may tape record lectures, provided that the student and instructor sign a release form available from departmental and faculty offices. A copy of the Release form shall be retained by the instructor and by the department in which the course is offered." Regulation E.6 includes the notification to students, "Any use other than that described above constitutes academic misconduct and may result in suspension or expulsion."

GUIDELINES FOR ZOOM SESSIONS

Zoom is a video conferencing program that will allow us to meet at specific times for a "live" video conference, so that we can have the opportunity to meet each other virtually and discuss relevant course topics as a learning community. It seems unlikely the course will have Zoom sessions, but it is possible.

To help ensure Zoom sessions are private, do not share the Zoom link or password with others, or on any social media platforms. Zoom links and passwords are only intended for students registered in the course. Zoom recordings and materials presented in Zoom, including any teaching materials, must not be shared, distributed or published without the instructor's permission.

The use of video conferencing programs relies on participants to act ethically, honestly and with integrity; and in accordance with the principles of fairness, good faith, and respect (as per the Code of Conduct). When entering Zoom or other video conferencing sessions (such as MS Teams), you play a role in helping create an effective, safe and respectful learning environment. Please be mindful of how your behaviour in these sessions may affect others. Participants are required to use names officially associated with their UCID (legal or preferred names listed in the Student Centre) when engaging in these activities. Instructors/moderators can remove those whose names do not appear on class rosters. Non-compliance may be investigated under relevant University of Calgary conduct policies (e.g., Student Non-Academic Misconduct Policy). If participants have difficulties complying with this requirement, they should email the instructor of the class explaining why, so the instructor may consider whether to grant an exception, and on what terms. For more information on how to get the most out of your zoom sessions visit: <https://elearn.ucalgary.ca/guidelines-for-zoom/>

If you are unable to attend a Zoom session, please contact your instructor to arrange an alternative activity for the missed session (e.g., to review a recorded session). Please be prepared, as best as you are able, to join class in a quiet space that will allow you to be fully present and engaged in Zoom sessions. Students will be advised by their instructor when they are expected to turn on their webcam (for group work, presentations, etc.).

The instructor may record online Zoom class sessions for the purposes of supporting student learning in this class – such as making the recording available for review of the session or for students who miss a session. Students will be advised before the instructor initiates a recording of a Zoom session. These recordings will be used to support student learning only and will not be shared or used for any other purpose.

COURSE EVALUATIONS AND STUDENT FEEDBACK

Student feedback will be sought at the end of the course through the standard University Student Ratings of Instruction (USRI) and Faculty course evaluation forms. A midterm evaluation may also be included to provide students an opportunity to provide feedback, for the instructor to adjust their approaches to teaching and learning, and to continuously improve the course. Students are welcome to discuss the process and content of the course at any time with the instructor
