Course description:

This inquiry-based course is intended to help students develop skill and confidence in academic writing. The course focuses on the writing styles, genres, evidence and reasoning that characterize academic writing in health and human service fields. Emphasis will be placed on connections between reading, writing, research, reflection, and critical reasoning. The course is open to students enrolled in Nursing, Social Work, and Community Rehabilitation Studies.

This is an online course. There will be no regularly scheduled class meetings or online chats. All course materials and readings will be posted on the course Blackboard site. If you have any questions or would like to schedule an appointment, please email the instructor.

Course objectives:

Through weekly module writing tasks and a set of three major assignments related to an inquiry-based research project, this course is intended to help students to develop

1. an understanding of the purposes, genres, and conventions of academic writing;
2. an effective writing process, with a range of strategies for developing research questions, finding information, exploring and organizing ideas, revising, and editing;
3. skill in the information search (research) process, including competence in using search tools such as specialized online databases to locate relevant materials and skill in assessing the relative value of various kinds of research materials and sources;
4. competence in writing academic papers, including proposals, summaries and critical reviews and analyses, reflective pieces, and research papers;
5. competence in critically analyzing, using, and citing sources using APA format;
6. competence in structuring papers effectively, formulating an effective thesis, writing an effective introduction and conclusion, developing arguments, and producing well developed, effectively focused, and coherent paragraphs with strong topic sentences;
7. skill in conveying a professional tone while writing with clarity, precision, and conciseness and skill in editing to eliminate common writing errors.

Textbook & readings:

- All course materials and required readings are available online on the course Blackboard site.
- Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (APA) (6th ed., 2010) – recommended (but not required). If you are a nursing student, you will need this manual for future courses, so consider buying it now.

Important notes:

- The proposal, comparative summary, and final paper must be submitted in order to pass the course. It is the student's responsibility to keep a copy of all assignments submitted.
- Assignments are due at 6: 30 pm MST. You have an automatic 24-hour grace period (with no late penalty) on all assignments.
- Detailed information on assignments will be provided on Blackboard.

Submission of assignments:

Please submit all assignments via the link provided in the Blackboard system, as explained in Module 0. (Do not use the digital drop box in Blackboard to submit assignments.)

To save your marker extra work, please use the following formats when submitting assignments:

file name: Please use this format in naming your files: ACWR Mod 2 H Smith.doc file type: Please use Word .doc or .rtf format. Avoid .docx & pdf formats.

other info: Please include your name on the first page of all attached files.

Policy for Late Assignments: Assignments are due at 6: 30 pm MST. You have an automatic 24-hour grace period (with no late penalty) on all assignments. Assignments submitted after the grace period are subject to a one-grade-level late penalty (e.g., B to B-) for each day late, including weekends.

Revisions: If you earn a grade of C or lower on the proposal or the comparative summary, you may revise and resubmit those assignments with two weeks of the return of your assignment. Successful revisions will earn a two-level grade increase, to a maximum of C+.

Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act

This course is conducted in accordance with the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FOIP). As one consequence, students should identify themselves on all written work by placing their name on the front page and their ID number. Also you will be required to provide a piece of picture identification in order to pick up an assignment or look at a final exam from SS320 after classes have ended.

For more information see also <http://www.ucalgary.ca/secretariat/privacy>.

Writing Skills Statement: All written assignments will be assessed at least partly on writing skills. Writing skills include not only surface correctness (grammar, punctuation, sentence structure, etc) but also general clarity and organization. Research sources must be properly documented. If you need additional help with your writing, visit <http://efwr.ucalgary.ca> to book a Writing Centre appointment or to access additional writing resources.

Grading System:

The following grading system is used in the Department of Communication and Culture:

	Grading Scale	Will calculate as
A+	96 – 100 %	98.0%
A	90 - 95.99	93.0%
A -	85 - 89.99	87.5%
B+	80 - 84.99	82.5%
B	75 - 79.99	77.5%
B-	70 - 74.99	72.5%
C+	65 - 69.99	67.5%
C	60 - 64.99	62.5%
C-	55 - 59.99	57.5%
D+	53 - 54.99	54.0%
D	50 - 52.99	51.5%
F	00 - 49.99	0.01%

Where a grade on a particular assignment is expressed as a letter grade, it will normally be converted to a number using the midpoint of the scale, as shown above. Split grades will be calculated at the midpoint of the split values; for example, a split B+/A- grade will count as 85%.

Plagiarism

Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possibly suspension or expulsion from the university.

As explained in Module 5, you must document not only direct quotations but also paraphrases and ideas where they appear in your text. A reference list at the end is insufficient by itself. Readers must be able to tell exactly where your words and ideas end and other people's words and ideas begin. This includes assignments submitted in non-traditional formats such as Web pages or visual media, and material taken from such sources.

Feel free to discuss your ideas with others and to have someone review your written work to point out weaknesses and typos. These practices are common in the workplace and do not constitute plagiarism as long as you do the corrections and the rewriting. All of the following, however, constitute plagiarism:

- passing off the work of others as your own
- submitting work that you have done previously (or that you are now doing for another course) as if it were new work done for this course
- borrowing wording from published material without using quotation marks (or formatting a long quoted passage according to the conventions of a standard documentation format)
- using wording, ideas, information, or graphics from published material or from the internet without acknowledging the source.

Information about the APA documentation styles is included in Module 5 and is also available at <http://efwr.ucalgary.ca> If you need further guidance about whether or how to document a source, please contact your instructor or an instructor in the Writing Centre.

Technical requirements & support:

TO DO (1): If you are new to BlackBoard, please visit the IT student help page:

<http://elearn.ucalgary.ca/elearn/blackboard/students> Here, you will find helpful resources for Blackboard plus links to information about obtaining an IT account, changing your password, and updating your e-mail address in the system. Note that you must have an IT account in order to access Blackboard. If you already have an ...@ucalgary.ca e-mail address, you have the necessary IT account in place. Look under the HELP menu button in Blackboard for other helpful resources, including an FAQ (frequently asked questions) section.

TO DO (2): Before the course begins, please go into Blackboard and send yourself an e-mail. If you do not receive the e-mail, please update your e-mail address in the system (at the link on the e-learn page). If you do not do so, you will miss important messages related to this course. Messages returned because of full e-mailboxes will not normally be resent.

For technical help, please phone IT support at (403) 220-5555 or e-mail itsupport@ucalgary.ca

Academic Misconduct

For information on academic misconduct and the consequences thereof please see the current University of Calgary Calendar at the following link;
<http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html>

Students with Disabilities

If you are a student with a disability who may require academic accommodation, it is your responsibility to register with the Disability Resource Centre (220-8237) and discuss your needs with your instructor no later than fourteen days after the start of the course.

Students' Union

"SAFEWALK" Program -- 220-5333

Campus Security will escort individuals day or night -- call 220-5333 for assistance. Use any campus phone, emergency phone or the yellow phone located at most parking lot booths.

Research Ethics

Whenever you perform research with human participants (e.g., surveys, interviews, or observations) as part of your university studies, you are responsible for following university research ethics guidelines. Your instructor will submit a request for a course-based ethics approval. However, she must review and approve of your research plans and supervise your research. If she has any concerns, she may direct your proposal to the faculty research ethics committee. Ethics forms and information specific to ACWR 303 will be posted on the course Blackboard site. For more information about your research ethics responsibilities, see the Dept. of Communication and Culture Research Ethics site: <http://www.comcul.ucalgary.ca/ethics>

Schedule of Lectures and Readings

Course modules and associated readings and resources are posted on the Blackboard course website and must be done weekly prior to submitting the weekly module assignments.
