Course Description

This course will focus on making students better communicators through writing, critically analysing written and spoken forms of discourse and speaking. It will also frame the study of rhetoric in a Communication Studies program and offer connections to other disciplines within the Communications field.

Primarily, we will explore the principles of persuasive communication as seen in a variety of sources; classical rhetoric, essays, newspaper editorials, speeches and debates. The emphasis in this course will be on how persuasion works and what makes certain speakers and writers more credible persuasive communicators than others. There will also be a thorough study of the rhetorical tool, ethos or how to establish and identify solid credible character through writing and speaking. The key to this class is to identify and isolate successful aspects of persuasion and duplicate them in our own lives. Related to ethics in communication is also an emphasis in this class on audience analysis and how successful rhetoricians identify and appeal to their audience.

Students will hone their skills as successful rhetoricians, and put this theory into practice, through essay writing, debating, analysing and public speaking. Because of the emphasis on public presentations, students will not only be graded on the quality of their writing, but also on the quality of expression and presentation.

Objectives of the Course

Students will become familiar with ancient and contemporary rhetoric and will extensively use the three tools of rhetoric, ethos, pathos and logos.

Students will learn how to effectively use other rhetorical structures like the Toulmin model.

Students will understand the importance of rhetoric to Western culture and to the field of communication studies.

Students will analyze a variety of rhetorical examples to see how effective use of these three tools creates sound arguments.

Students will become effective communicators and will learn how to frame a message to a specific audience through extensive practice of speaking and writing.

Students will practice creating strong and credible ethos through theoretical and practice exercises.

Students will learn in a collaborative and safe environment.

Internet and electronic communication device information

Laptop computers may be used in class but only for class work and not for social networking.

Participation	10%	Ongoing
Informative Presentation	10%	Feb 1/Feb 3
In-Class Essay	15%	March 1
Annotated Bib & Proposal	10%	March 10
Research Essay	20%	March 24
Persuasive Presentation	15%	March 29/31 April 5
Take Home Final	20%	April 18

It is the student's responsibility to keep a copy of each submitted assignment.

Note: Please hand in your essays directly to your tutor or instructor if possible. If it is not possible to do so, a daytime drop box is available in SS320; a date stamp is provided for your use. A night drop box is also available for after-hours submission. Assignments will be removed the following morning, stamped with the previous day's date, and placed in the instructor's mailbox.

Registrar-scheduled Final Examination: No

Please note: If your class is held in the evening, the Registrar's Office will make every attempt to schedule the final exam during the evening; however, there is NO guarantee that the exam will NOT be scheduled during the day.

Policy for Late Assignments

Assignments submitted after the deadline may be penalized with the loss of a grade (e.g.: A- to B+) for each day late.

Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act

This course is conducted in accordance with the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FOIP). As one consequence, students should identify themselves on all written work by placing their name on the front page and their ID number. Also you will be required to provide a piece of picture identification in order to pick up an assignment or look at a final exam from SS320 after classes have ended.

For more information see also <http://www.ucalgary.ca/secretariat/privacy>.

Writing Skills Statement

Department policy directs that all written assignments (including, although to a lesser extent, written exam responses) will be assessed at least partly on writing skills. For details see <http://www.comcul.ucalgary.ca/needtoknow>. Writing skills include not only surface correctness (grammar, punctuation, sentence structure, etc) but also general clarity and organization. Research papers must be properly documented.

If you need help with your writing, you may use the Writing Centre. Visit the website for more details: www.efwr.ucalgary.ca

Grading System

The following grading system is used in the Department of Communication and Culture:
(Revised, effective September 2008)

	Grading Scale
A+	96-100
A	90-95.99
A -	85-89.99
B+	80-84.99
B	75-79.99
B-	70-74.99
C+	65-69.99
C	60-64.99

C-	55-59.99
D+	53-54.99
D	50-52.99
F	0-49

Where a grade on a particular assignment is expressed as a letter grade, it will normally be converted to a number using the midpoint of the scale. That is, A- would be converted to 87.5 for calculation purposes. F will be converted to zero.

Plagiarism

Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possibly suspension or expulsion from the university.

You must document not only direct quotations but also paraphrases and ideas where they appear in your text. A reference list at the end is insufficient by itself. Readers must be able to tell exactly where your words and ideas end and other people's words and ideas begin. This includes assignments submitted in non-traditional formats such as Web pages or visual media, and material taken from such sources.

Please consult your instructor or the Writing Centre (MacEwan Student Centre 4th floor, efwr.ucalgary.ca) if you have any questions regarding how to document sources.

Academic Misconduct

For information on academic misconduct and the consequences thereof please see the current University of Calgary Calendar at the following link;
