Course Description

Theme: Canada as a Digital Society

The special topic of this seminar course is: Canada as a Digital Society. Within this theme we explore the role of technologies and digitization, and new media in particular, within the broad context of social development in Canada. Technologies and digitization have far reaching implications for Canada's economic, political and business systems, social and cultural organization and values, and individual practices and activities. Following a set of overviews on national connectivity and access rooted in the 2010 federal Digital Economy Strategy and strategic positioning of ICT (information and communication technologies) as primary drivers of the digital economy in an increasingly globalized world, we will examine content and use through a series of seminars focused on the following thematic areas:

1. Theme 1: Social Connectivity: Virtual communities, social networking, citizenship, politics and governance - how do Canadians work and relate socially in a digital society?
2. Theme 2: Art, Culture and Entertainment: From digital dance to mash-ups – how do Canadians express themselves and play in a digital society?
3. Theme 3: Science and Technology: From medical robotics to simulations and the capabilities of molecular computers – how do Canadians create and share scientific and other knowledge in a digital society?

4. Theme 4: Public Safety, Risk and National Security: A digital society is possible because of a complex system of technological infrastructures. However, with these come new forms of issues such as cybercrime and critical infrastructure failure. What technological infrastructures is the digital society founded upon, and what measures are in place to protect and develop them and thereby assure the continued functioning of the developing Canadian digital society?

Classes will be in a seminar format and be organized around identifying and critically examining key questions and issues in each thematic area related to Canada's transition into a digital society. Each thematic area is organized around specific examples and set of readings. Students are expected to build on this foundation, expand outward, contribute their own perspectives and insights to seminars, and at times work in small groups to further explore common interests.

Since this is a capstone course, it will provide an opportunity to apply and integrate what Students have learned in their courses.

Objectives of the Course

The course has the following major objectives:

1. To provide Students with an opportunity to integrate the knowledge, skills and experiences acquired during the program.
2. To provide Students with the opportunity to create a major research project drawing on course material and personal interests, which Students will present to the class and as a formal research paper.
3. To encourage Students to think and research across disciplinary boundaries.
4. To help prepare Students for the expectations of graduate level study and professional work.

Internet and electronic communication device information

Students are encouraged to bring their laptops, the use of which will be during designated times in class and only for purposes of the class, and otherwise not permitted. No texting or cell phone use permitted in class.

Textbooks and Readings:

All readings are online, accessible through Blackboard.

Assignments and Evaluation:

- Take Home Assignments (3 x 10%) (dates and details below): 30%
- Key Reading Presentation (see below): 15%
- Research Project: (see below) 45%
  - Proposal and Annotated Bibliography (due May 19): 10%
  - Research Paper (due June 16): 30%
  - Paper Presentation (June 16): 5%
- Participation (ongoing): 10%

About the Take Home Assignments (30%)

Students will receive marks for three (3) of five (5) take home assignments (each worth 10%, for a total of 30%). A Student can elect to do and submit only three (3), or can also elect to do and submit four (4) or five (5), in which case they will receive the highest three (3) marks of those submitted.

The Take Home Assignments will involve analyzing and integrating assigned readings and lecture material into a maximum three (3) double-spaced essay. The Take Home Assignments will be distributed after each of the first five lectures (i.e. May 5, 12, 19, 26 and June 2) and a hard copy is due at the beginning of each of the following classes. No late Assignments will be accepted.

About the Key Reading Presentation (15%)

Working in pairs, Students will select from a list of assigned readings and prepare and deliver a 15 minute presentation and lead a seminar discussion on the key concepts in the reading. Sign-up is first day of class.

About the Research Project (45%)

The Research Project comprises 45% of the mark in the course, and comprises the following components:

- Proposal and Annotated Bibliography (10%): due May 19, 2012
  - Students will prepare a 2-3 page Proposal Outline for their research paper (see below) and an Annotated Bibliography (5-6 academic sources).
- Research Paper (30%): due June 16, 2012
  - Students will prepare a researched essay of 12-15 (double spaced) pages on a topic of their choice (to be approved by the Instructor) related to an aspect of Canada as a digital society. All sources must be properly cited, and the research paper well organized and edited. Further details will be provided the first day of class.
- Presentation (5%): June 16, 2012

- Students will present their Research Paper to the class the last week of class (length estimated to be 15 minutes but will depend on the number of Students registered).

About Participation (10%): ongoing

Participation (10%) through regular attendance and participation in class discussion and activities is an essential component of the course. Students are expected to attend classes and participate; “participation” is not only attendance per se but contributing to each others’ learning and participating in the creation of a positive atmosphere and learning environment.

It is the student's responsibility to keep a copy of each submitted assignment.

Note: Please hand in your essays directly to your tutor or instructor if possible. If it is not possible to do so, a daytime drop box is available in SS320; a date stamp is provided for your use. A night drop box is also available for after-hours submission. Assignments will be removed the following morning, stamped with the previous day's date, and placed in the instructor's mailbox.

Registrar-scheduled Final Examination: No

Policy for Late Assignments

Assignments submitted after the deadline may be penalized with the loss of a grade (e.g.: A- to B+) for each day late.

Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act

This course is conducted in accordance with the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FOIP). As one consequence, students should identify themselves on all written work by placing their name on the front page and their ID number. Also you will be required to provide a piece of picture identification in order to pick up an assignment or look at a final exam from SS320 after classes have ended.

For more information see also <http://www.ucalgary.ca/secretariat/privacy>.

Writing Skills Statement

Department policy directs that all written assignments (including, although to a lesser extent, written exam responses) will be assessed at least partly on writing skills. For details see <http://www.comcul.ucalgary.ca/needtoknow>. Writing skills include not only surface correctness (grammar, punctuation, sentence structure, etc) but also general clarity and organization. Research papers must be properly documented.

If you need help with your writing, you may use the Writing Centre. Visit the website for more details: <http://www.ucalgary.ca/ssc/writing-support>

Grading System

The following grading system is used in the Department of Communication and Culture:

(Revised, effective September 2008)

	Grading Scale
A+	96-100
A	90-95.99
A -	85-89.99
B+	80-84.99
B	75-79.99
B-	70-74.99
C+	65-69.99
C	60-64.99
C-	55-59.99
D+	53-54.99
D	50-52.99
F	0-49

Where a grade on a particular assignment is expressed as a letter grade, it will normally be converted to a number using the midpoint of the scale. That is, A- would be converted to 87.5 for calculation purposes. F will be converted to zero.

Plagiarism

Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possibly suspension or expulsion from the university.

You must document not only direct quotations but also paraphrases and ideas where they appear in your text. A reference list at the end is insufficient by itself. Readers must be able to tell exactly where your words and ideas end and other people's words and ideas begin. This includes assignments submitted in non-traditional formats such as Web pages or visual media, and material taken from such sources.

Please consult your instructor or the Writing Centre (3rd Floor Taylor Digital Family Library, <http://www.ucalgary.ca/ssc/writing-support>) if you have any questions regarding how to document sources.
