Course Description

This course introduces basic concepts of film analysis, which are discussed through examples from different national cinemas, genres, and directorial oeuvres. Along with questions of film technique and style, we consider the notion of the cinema as an institution that comprises an industrial system of production, social and aesthetic norms and codes, and particular modes of reception.

Objectives of the Course

This course provides foundational tools and concepts required for film analysis. Students will develop different ways of considering – and writing about – the formal, aesthetic, institutional, and cultural dimensions of the cinema. The course is intended to prepare students for further work in film studies.

Internet and electronic communication device information

This course observes a strict laptop and cell phone policy. During lectures, laptops may be used for note-taking only; no laptops may be out during screenings or tutorials. Use of handheld electronic devices (cell phones, etc.) is not permitted at any time.

Note on Attendance & Tardiness

If you miss a day of class, it is your responsibility to make up the material by getting notes from a classmate and, in the case of screenings, watching the film at the Taylor Library. Neither the instructor nor the TAs will provide you with lecture notes or Powerpoint slides.

In addition, tardiness to tutorials is disruptive to class discussion, and repeated incidents of arriving after the roster is taken will not be tolerated. After three incidents of either checking your phone or showing up tardy to a class, you will be referred to the instructor for a one-on-one meeting.

Communication

Please allow one full business day (M-F, 9:00-5:00) for response to emails. (E.g., if you send an email at 8 p.m. on a Saturday, do not expect a response at 8:45 that night; please anticipate possible issues accordingly.) In cases of confusion about material, assignments, attendance, disciplinary issues, etc., your TA is your first line of defense. If you have a specific issue with your TA, please notify the instructor directly.

Textbooks and Readings

David Bordwell, Kristin Thompson, and Jeff Smith, Film Art, 11th ed., available at university bookstore.

Additional readings will be available on D2L.

Assignments and Evaluation

Class Participation (ongoing)

10%

In-class discussion is an essential component of the course. Students must come to class prepared to discuss the readings and screenings. Class participation grades will be evaluated each day in tutorials, on the following scale:

Substantial participation (multiple comments and/or thoughtful comments): 10/10

Minimal participation (1-2 yes/no or single-word type comments): 5/10

Null participation (no comments): 0/10

Note that, by this scale, attendance does not count toward participation. If you want participation credit, you must participate.

If you are absent during a tutorial, you may get full participation by submitting a 200-word response on how the week's film makes use of the topic for the week (mise-en-scene, narrative, etc.), within 7 calendar days of your absence.

Quiz #1 (Feb. 2, in tutorial)

10%

Covers the first three weeks of course material (lectures, screenings, tutorials, readings). The format will include true/false, multiple choice, and short answer.

Quiz #2 (Mar. 9, in tutorial)

15%

Covers classes four through seven of course material (lectures, screenings, tutorials, reading). The format will include true/false, short answer, and essay questions.

If you miss a quiz, you have seven calendar days to schedule a make-up quiz with your TA. After this, you will be given a zero.

Essay (due Apr. 6, in tutorial)

30%

A short essay (4-5 pages) comparing how a particular aspect of film form is used in two films from the course (e.g., how Citizen Kane and Chungking Express use mise-en-scene to different effect). The essay should focus on an exemplary scene from each film and discuss how the aspect reflects the broader goals of each film. More specific instructions will come later in the term.

Final Exam (Scheduled by Registrar)

35%

The final exam will cover lectures, readings, and screenings from the entire semester. The exam format will include a mix of true/false, multiple-choice, short answer, and essay questions.

All assignments must be completed or a grade of F may be assigned at the discretion of the instructor.

Registrar-scheduled Final Examination: Yes

Submission of Assignments: Please hand in your essays directly to your tutor or instructor if possible. If it is not possible to do so, a daytime drop box is available in SS320; a date stamp is provided for your use. A night drop box is also available for after-hours submission. Assignments will be removed the following morning, stamped with the previous day's date, and placed in the instructor's mailbox.

Please include your name and ID number on all assignments, and be prepared to provide picture ID to pick up assignments or look at final exams in SS 320 after classes have ended. Personal information is collected in accordance with the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy (FOIP) Act. For more information, see <http://www.ucalgary.ca/secretariat/privacy>

Note: It is the student's responsibility to keep a copy of each submitted assignment.

For courses in which assignments are submitted electronically, it is the student's responsibility to ensure that the correct copy of the assignment is submitted. (Including the version date or version number in your file name may help you avoid submitting the wrong version of your written assignments.)

Policy for Late Assignments

For late assignments, one-third of a letter grade (A- becomes B+, B+ becomes B, etc.) will be subtracted from the assignment for each 24-hour period.

Student Accommodations:

Students seeking an accommodation based on disability or medical concerns should contact Student Accessibility Services; SAS will process the request and issue letters of accommodation to instructors. For additional information on support services and accommodations for students with disabilities, visit www.ucalgary.ca/access/.

Students who require an accommodation in relation to their coursework based on a protected ground other than disability should communicate this need in writing to their Instructor. The full policy on Student Accommodations is available at <http://www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/student-accommodation-policy.pdf>.

Students seeking accommodation for transient illnesses (e.g., the flu) should contact their instructors. Whenever possible, students should advise their instructors in advance if they will be missing quizzes, presentations, in-class assignments, or group meetings.

When accommodations are granted, they may take forms other than make-up tests or assignments. For example, the weight of a missed grade may be added to another assignment or test.

For information on Deferrals of Final Exams and Term Work, see sections G.6 and G.7 of the University Calendar at <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/g-6.html> and <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/g-7.html>

Writing Skills Statement

Department policy directs that all written assignments (including, to a lesser extent, written exam responses) will be assessed at least partly on writing skills. Writing skills include not only surface correctness (grammar, punctuation, sentence structure, etc) but also general clarity and organization. Sources used in research papers must be properly documented as per MLA guidelines. If you need help with your writing, you are strongly encouraged to use the Writing Centre. Visit the website for more details: <http://www.ucalgary.ca/ssc/writing-support>

Plagiarism

Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possibly suspension or expulsion from the university.

You must document not only direct quotations but also paraphrases and ideas where they appear in your text. A reference list at the end is insufficient by itself. In-text citations must be provided, and readers must be able to tell exactly where your words and ideas end and other people’s words and ideas begin. Wording taken directly from a source must be enclosed within quotation marks (or, for long quotations, presented in the format prescribed by the documentation style you are using). Paraphrased information must not follow the original wording and sentence structure with only slight word substitutions here and there. These requirements apply to all assignments and sources, including those in non-traditional formats such as Web pages or visual media.

For information on citation and documentation styles (including APA, Chicago, IEEE, MLA, and others), visit the links provided at <https://ucalgary.ca/ssc/resources/writing-support/436> . If you have questions about how to document sources, please consult your instructor or the Writing Centre (3rd Floor TFDL, <http://www.ucalgary.ca/ssc/writing-support>).

Academic Misconduct

For information on academic misconduct and its consequences, please see the University of Calgary Calendar at <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html>

Research Ethics

Whenever you perform research with human participants (i.e. surveys, interviews, observation) as part of your university studies, you are responsible for following university research ethics guidelines. Your instructor must review and approve of your research plans and supervise your research. For more information about your research ethics responsibilities, see <http://arts.ucalgary.ca/research/resources/ethics>
