Assignments and Evaluation

Class participation (ongoing)

10%

In-class discussion is an essential component of the course. Students must come to class prepared to discuss the readings and screenings. Class participation grades will be evaluated based on the quality of your contributions to in-class discussions.

In-class analysis/quiz (2 x 15% Oct. 2, Oct 30)

30%

An in-class writing assignment. Each quiz entails the analysis of a specific film, to be shown in class; the analysis should comment on particular formal and stylistic qualities of the film, while also drawing on course readings to contextualize the filmmaker and his/her strategies.

Five film journal posts (ongoing)

10%

After Thursday's class, go to the D2L site to submit a brief but thoughtful and detailed reflections on the week's films and reading. Responses should be in polished, standard English (no point form or weblang please!), run a paragraph or two in length (approx. 250 words) and focus on a detail or raise a specific issue that you think is worth more attention. You are encouraged to respond (thoughtfully, respectfully) to your classmates' posts, and/or to post additional comments on the discussion board. These responses must be submitted on Blackboard by Friday at noon (no later). To get full marks, you must post five journal entries over the course of the semester.

Essay Proposal/Annotated Bibliography (Due in class Nov. 13)

10%

3-4 pages, total, which includes a brief (300 words) description of your topic and argument, which outlines the shape your essay will take; AND a 2-3 page annotated bibliography that lists the primary and scholarly sources that you will use and provides a brief (2-3 sentence paragraph) explanation of the relevance of each.

Final research paper (Essay due Dec 12)

40%

An essay 8-10 pages in length. The paper may be on a topic chosen from a list provided by the instructor, or on a topic of your choice that has been approved by the instructor. Detailed instructions will be provided in Week 8. Students will give a brief presentation of their research topics on the last day of class.

Registrar-scheduled Final Examination: No

All assignments and exams must be completed or a course grade of F may be assigned at the discretion of the instructor.

Submission of Assignments: Please hand in your essays directly to your tutor or instructor if possible. If it is not possible to do so, a daytime drop box is available in SS320; a date stamp is provided for your use. A night drop box is also available for after-hours submission. Assignments will be removed the following morning, stamped with the previous day's date, and placed in the instructor's mailbox.

Please include your name and ID number on all assignments, and be prepared to provide picture ID to pick up assignments or look at final exams in SS 320 after classes have ended. Personal information is collected in accordance with the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy (FOIP) Act. For more information, see <http://www.ucalgary.ca/secretariat/privacy>

Note: It is the student's responsibility to keep a copy of each submitted assignment. For courses in which assignments are submitted electronically, it is the student's responsibility to ensure that the correct copy of the assignment is submitted. (Including the version date or version number in your file name may help you avoid submitting the wrong version of your written assignments.)

Plagiarism

Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possibly suspension or expulsion from the university.

You must document not only direct quotations but also paraphrases and ideas where they appear in your text. A reference list at the end is insufficient by itself. In-text citations must be provided, and readers must be able to tell exactly where your words and ideas end and other people's words and ideas begin. Wording taken directly from a source must be enclosed within quotation marks (or, for long quotations, presented in the format prescribed by the documentation style you are using). Paraphrased information must not follow the original wording and sentence structure with only slight word substitutions here and there. These requirements apply to all assignments and sources, including those in non-traditional formats such as Web pages or visual media.

For information on citation and documentation styles (including APA, Chicago, IEEE, MLA, and others), visit the links provided at <http://www.ucalgary.ca/ssc/node/208> . If you have questions about how to document sources, please consult your instructor or the Writing Centre (3rd Floor TFDL, <http://www.ucalgary.ca/ssc/writing-support>).

Academic Misconduct

For information on academic misconduct and its consequences, please see the University of Calgary Calendar at <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html>

Research Ethics

Whenever you perform research with human participants (i.e. surveys, interviews, observation) as part of your university studies, you are responsible for following university research ethics guidelines. Your instructor must review and approve of your research plans and supervise your research. For more information about your research ethics responsibilities, see <http://arts.ucalgary.ca/research/research/research-ethics>
